Italian home

Step 5: a small set of sources to repeat, plus a weekly rhythm

Build an Italian home

Goal: make Italian part of your day so you hear it even when you are not 'studying'. Keep this list small. Repeat the same few sources instead of hunting for new ones.

Type	What	Level	Link
Street interviews with IT/EN subtitles	Easy Italian (Milan and other cities)	A2–B2	Channel · Street playlist
Slow monologues (good to shadow)	Italy Made Easy: Caffè Italiano con Manu	A2–B1	Playlist
Videos in Italian with subtitles	Italy Made Easy: Videos 100% in Italian	A2–B1	Playlist
Podcast (slow Italian)	Italy Made Easy podcast: free audio and free PDF transcripts; also on YouTube. Listen to one episode on loop for a week.	A2–B1	Podcast page · Video versions
Everyday language	Italy Made Easy: Everyday Italian	A2	Playlist
Italian TV (free)	RaiPlay, the public broadcaster. Free with an account; some titles are restricted outside Italy.	B1+	raiplay.it
People	Italians around you: bar, flatmates, classmates, university groups	All	Use the mingle kit in file 03

Weekly rhythm

- Mon / Wed / Fri: one Easy Italian street interview. 4 passes: gist, subtitles, shadow 5 lines, make 3 sentences.
- Tue / Thu: one Caffè Italiano or podcast episode. Italian subtitles on. Retell it in 3 sentences.
- Sat: something fun: a RaiPlay show, a vlog or music. No tasks. Just stay in Italian.
- Every day in Italy: speak at least once with a stranger (shop, bar, university).

If you understand over 90 percent, go up a level. Under 50 percent, go down.

Home log

Date	What I watched/heard	3 new chunks	One thing I said to a real person